GREAT CROWDS THROG MAYOR CRILLY'S COURT ROOM TO HEAR EVA WERTS' TESTIMONY

Girl Witness Positively Says That Levi Bevard Killed Her Grandmother

NOT SHAKEN ON THE CROSS EXAMINATION

Bevard Affectionately Greeted By Wife, Who Is the Daughter of Murdered Woman, and Takes Child In His Arms—Prisoner Appears Unconcerned—Defense, Which Will Try To Prove An Alibi, Has 50 Witnesses—Eva, the New Witness In the Case.

Long before the time set for the hearing of Levi Bevard, charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frances L. Werts, the small court room in the city building was crowded to suffocation Thursday morning. The people who crowded into the little room numbered hundreds. Those who could find seats were only a small portion of the crowd. Many were left standing.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock when Officer Zergibel brought the prisoner into court. Bevard appeared calm. He was given a seat at the table reserved for the counsel in front of the mayor's desk.

Pathetic Greeting.
Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Bevard, wife of the defendant, came into the room through Mayor Crilly's private office, it being impossible to get in at the door so great was the crowd.

Mrs. Bevard greeted her husband affectionately. The husband took his blue eyed baby girl in his arms and kissed her fervently.

Eva Werts was the first witness called by the state. She was sworn and took the solemn oath with the coolness and firmness of an expert witness.

Prosecutor Fitzgibbon took the witness and put her through a thorough examination. Nothing additional was brought out by her testimony. Her story as told before the court Thursday morning varied not one whit from that told to the reporters on the morning of the tragedy while she sat in the little kitchen at the home of John Schimp.

Bit by bit she was brought to tell the court the gruesome particulars of the tragedy and of the important points which bear on the case. She told of the ill feeling between Levi Bevard and the dead woman. She told how Bevard was not permitted to come into the house after he had married Rose Werts, daughter of the murdered woman and a first cousin of the defendant.

In a clear and concise tone she recited incidents when Levi and his wife would come to the Werts home, told how Levi would leave his wife there while he drove to the home of Mr. Wright, who lives a short distance west of the Werts home. After his wife had concluded her visit, Levi would drive to the house, get his wife and proceed to her home.

On these visits, which occurred several times a month until a few months ago, Bevard and Mrs. Werts would not speak. Eva told the court about the $100 which her grandmother gave to Rosa Bevard several weeks before the tragedy to deposit in the bank. She was to return the certificate of deposit on the following Sunday. She told how she had asked Mrs. Bevard for the certificate and how it was refused to her. The testimony showed that Mrs. Bevard insisted all the time that she had deposited the money but refused to show Eva the certificate of deposit which she received.

Prosecutor Fitzgibbon drew out of the witness little by little about the notice which Mrs. Werts received from the bank saying that a note was left there for collection and Eva stated that she saw the note and recognized Steven Bevard's hand writing. She then told of carrying a note to Steve Bevard, written under the direction of her grandmother, telling him to settle the matter by paying the note before Saturday, June 3, or he would be arrested for forgery. She said that her grandmother could not write and that she signed her name by making a cross. She said that the note left at the bank was signed but that there was no cross there.

Eva also told the court about a bill for lumber bought in Newark, for which Mrs. Werts gave to Steve Bevard, $2.35 with instructions to settle the same. She said that the amount remained unpaid until her grandmother came to town and settled the bill herself. She said that there was ill feeling between her grandmother and Steve on this account.

After the girl had been led to tell of the night before the tragedy, how she and her grandmother had been awakened by strange noises about the house, Prosecutor Fitzgibbon asked: "Who did you see strike your grandmother?" Without the least hesitation or indication of doubt, Eva answered in a firm voice "Levi Bevard!"

She stated that she recognized the man from his height, clothing and his general appearance.

Her story of the interview which she had Thursday morning after the tragedy with her cousin, Levi Bevard, differed but slightly from the same story told to the reporters a few days ago, telling how Levi threatened her life if she dared to tell whom she suspected. She testified that Levi told her not to tell that the man wore a derby hat and had on dark clothes. And not to tell that Mrs. Werts kept a revolver in the house.

At this point in the testimony the trial stopped until the Coroner could bring into court the club and bloody pitch-fork which the officers found in the house and which figured in the tragedy. When these were brought in to court, they were shown to Eva and she identified the club as being the one which she and the officers found on the floor of the bed room. The fork she identified as being one which her grandmother kept in the bedroom continually for self-defense. This concluded the state's examination of Eva Werts and she was turned over to Attorney B. G. Smythe who is defending Levi Bevard, the accused.

Many preliminary questions were asked regarding the girl's age, but she insisted that she was but 14 years old, giving February 22, 1891, as the day of her birth. While answering these questions Eva glanced at Chief Sheridan and smiled. Attorney Smythe took up the matter and asked why she laughed. The witness answered: "I may as well laugh as cry."

"You and the chief are pretty good friends are you not?" asked Mr. Smythe.

"Why, yes," replied Eva.

"The chief is a handsome man, isn't he?" continued the attorney.

"Oh, yes, he's not bad looking," said Eva.

His cross-examination of the star witness in the case did not reveal anything new. She adhered to the points in the case with grim determination. The questions asked by the defense shows that one of the points will be to implicate Eva in the crime with some one else. When he asked about the club, Attorney Smythe said: "Did you not take that club into the house yourself?"

"No, I did not."

"Didn't you once hit your grandmother with the club and knock her into the wood box?"

"No, I did not."

"Didn't you tell some of your

EQUITABLE LIFE MANAGEMENT IS HERE CRITICISED

REPORT OF SUPT. HENDRICKS ON STATE INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

"Cancer Cannot be Cured by Treating Symptoms—Mutualization Only Way of Relief."

Albany, N. Y., June 22.—The report of Superintendent Francis Hendricks of the state insurance department to Governor Higgins upon his investigation of the Equitable Life Assurance society was made public here and in New York. It is described in the title as "preliminary report," and sharply criticizes the management of the society as well as the new trust arrangement for voting the stock agreed upon by Thomas F. Ryan and the trustees named by him. Superintendent Hendricks says: "No superficial measures will correct the existing evils in this society. A cancer can not be cured by treating the symptoms. Complete mutualization with the elimination of the stock to be paid for at a price only commensurate with its dividends is, in my opinion, the only sure measure of relief. This report with a copy of the evidence taken on this investigation will be transmitted to the attorney general for such action thereon as he may deem proper."

Of Mr. Alexander, Mr. Hendricks says uncontroverted testimony shows that he was a participant in the "James H. Hyde and associates" transactions; that he executed the leases detrimental to the society's welfare, and has failed to meet the obligations imposed upon him as chief officer of the society. The summing up against Mr. Hyde is more severe. It sets forth that he permitted the society to lose heavily in its business transactions with the Commercial Trust company; that he exacted salaries out of all proportion to his age, ability or the value of his services; that he has been accustomed to draw large sums for expenses on his own unitemized vouchers; that he assumed domination of the society's affairs until the presidency was reduced to a position of secondary importance, and that he proceeded to use the society and its assets more and more as if they were his own, until he was checked by the demand for mutualization and his retirement.

MRS. CLARK WORRIES SOCIETY LEADERS OF BUTTE, MONTANA

SENATOR'S PRETTY YOUNG WIFE DOESN'T RECEIVE ALL HER CALLERS.

Those Who Knew Young Woman Before She Married Clark are Very Cordially Welcomed.

Butte, Mont., June 22.—Social leaders of Butte are very much agitated because several members of the upper set have been refused admittance to the residence of United States Senator W. A. Clark by the senator's young wife.

Three of the more prominent women of Butte society called at the Clark mansion several days ago to pay their respects to Mrs. Clark. The butler took their cards and while they waited, the women say, they heard a gentle, familiar voice instructing the servant to convey to the callers the information that Mrs. Clark was not at home.

The fact that this trio had been snubbed did not deter others from having a try at making their way into the presence of the wife of Montana's senior senator. Some of them—in every instance, those who had known Mrs. Clark during her girlhood, when she lived in poverty with her parents here—were admitted and welcomed cordially.

Then it leaked out that Mrs. Clark preferred the friends of the old days to those who seek to pay her homage now that she is wealthy, but who failed to recognize her or any member of her family at the time when she was Miss La Chapelle and known only as the daughter of a poor French physician struggling to support his family.

Francis Murphy, the temperance advocate, who has been seriously ill at his home in Los Angeles, Cal., for the last six months of blood poisoning, as the result of having been pricked with a pin, is recovering slowly.

JAPS ADVANCING BIG FIGHT BEGINS IN MANCHURIA

OFFICIAL MESSAGES FROM BOTH OF THE BIG ARMIES INDICATE A CLASH.

Gen. Linevitch Evidently Has Imposed an Embargo on Press Messages From the Front.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—It is believed here a great battle in Manchuria is now beginning, and official dispatches from both sides bear out the idea that the Japanese have commenced their main advance, though as yet there have been no heavy collisions. The Japanese, following the checking of the movement to the west, are now pushing forward in force along the railroad and the Mandarin and Mainai roads, their front now stretching from Singlungchuan, 15 miles north of Changtufu, and east through Shuanniantzu station to Yuoma pass, on the Mandarin road. The Russians retired their advance posts without serious resistance, and are evidently retiring to their first line of entrenchments, which is believed to cross the railroad at Sipinghai, 11 miles farther north. They have a number of other fortified positions before reaching their ultimate line of defense at Kirin and at Changchunfu, 50 miles in the rear.

Lieutenant General Linevitch evidently has imposed an embargo on press messages, indicating that hostilities have entered a serious phase. If negotiations for an armistice are on foot they must bear immediate fruit in order to prevent a battle perhaps greater in its casualties than that of Mukden.

ROME MAY LEAVE VATICAN.

PROCESSION

Of Fifty Thousand Polish Workmen Fired Upon by Cossacks.

Lodz, Russian Poland, June 22.—Eighteen persons were killed and 100 wounded by volleys fired by dragoons and Cossacks on a procession of 50,000 workmen that had been organized as a demonstration against the government. The demonstration had been quietly arranged. The workmen with 30 red flags marched through the streets, shouting "Down with despotism." Up to this point the police had not interfered. Soon the procession reformed and was marching up Clowna street when suddenly the Cossacks and dragoons rushed from the side streets and fired a number of volleys. The crowd fled panic-stricken, leaving 158 killed and 190 wounded.

BALTIC YARDS

Not Secured by the United States Steel Corporation.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—The report that the United States Steel corporation had acquired the Baltic shipyards and was about to acquire practically all the other yards on the Finnish gulf, at Revel, Liban, and other places on the Baltic littoral, is untrue. It doubtless was the outgrowth of gossip as to possible future developments in connection with the visit of Charles M. Schwab to Russia, which might involve the co-operation of American and Russian yards in rebuilding the Russian navy.

DID THE LAKE SHORE LIMITED JUMP THE TRACK AT MENTOR, O. OF ITS OWN MOMENTUM?

Twenty People Killed and Many Hurt on New 20th Century Flyer

FOURTH TRIP ON EIGHTEEN HOUR SCHEDULE

Frightful Accident Late Wednesday Night In Northern Ohio—Demand For Fast Travel Responsible For the Wreck, Says State Railway Commissioner—Legislature May Be Asked To Stop the Speed War—List of the Dead and Injured.

Cleveland, O., June 22.—Was the Lake Shore Twentieth Century limited train, wrecked at Mentor, Ohio, last night, causing so many deaths, going so fast that it jumped the track, of its own momentum? This question is asked today by official investigators.

The statement of the railroad officials that the switch was open is not thoroughly explained. The engineer, according to the fireman, jumped from the engine. Did he see the switch light burned wrong, or did he feel the engine start to leave the track? The investigators seek an explanation of this question.

The station agent at Mentor declares that the signal switch showed white for the flyer. Yet General Manager Marshall of the Lake Shore said this morning that he had found indisputable evidence that the switch had been thrown against the train and was locked open. It is impossible for a switch to be open and at the same time show a white signal unless the switch mechanism has been tampered with, admitted Marshall, but he said there was nothing to show that the switch mechanism had been tampered with in that way.

Fireman Gorham told Marshall that the signal light had shown white.

"Tyler, the engineer, when he reached Mentor," says Gorham, "told me: 'It's O. K. The signal's right.' The light showed white and we both saw it white. It was just after that the engine struck the switch and left the tracks."

"The agent at Mentor," Marshall said, "corroborated Gorham in regard to the signal being set white. Yet the switch was open. I can't account for the switch being open and the light another. There doesn't seem to be any way to account for it. The switch showed in perfect condition after the accident. There certainly was no defect in either switch or rails."

"An investigation will be begun immediately and carried far enough to satisfy us as to exactly what happened. There had no one been noticed in the neighborhood during the day or last evening who might have been suspected of being the one who tampered with the switch. The thing is a mystery."

Marshall would not say whether or not the Lake Shore would withdraw the 18-hour train because of the wreck. Marshall said the wreck would have occurred as well to any other train and would have been a bad one even if the speed had not been as high as that of the limited.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 22.—Twenty lives were lost according to reports given out by railway officials and at the hospitals this morning, in the wreck of the Twentieth Century limited at Mentor at 9:20 last night. The Lake Shore's record breaking train, bound for New York, hit an open switch and in an instant the monster locomotive and all but one of the cars behind it were piled in a great life-crushing heap. More than a score of persons were injured.

Charles H. Wellman, general manager of Wellman, Seaver, Morgan Co., died at hospital.

Allen Tyler, engineer, Collinwood, died at hospital.

Two unidentified bodies recovered this morning.

The Injured.

The following is a list of the injured at the Cleveland General Hospital: S. C. Beckwith, advertising agent, New York, badly burned, but may recover.

R. C. Cordua, Brooklyn, N. Y., badly burned, but may recover.

Others injured are: J. H. Langdon, Chicago, reported in critical condition.

F. D. Countiss, president S. R. Chapin company, Chicago, slightly burned, injuries not serious.

Unaccounted for: L. M. Kirick, manager Keith's theatre, Cleveland.

The limited recently placed on the run to equal the 18 hour schedule of the Pennsylvania, special was passing through the station at Mentor, just west of Painesville, when the wreck occurred.

The operator had been ordered to give the train a clear signal. He did so. The flyer was going perhaps 70 miles an hour through the little Ohio town.

But directly in front of the depot the locomotive veered. The train checked and then piled on top of the engine. The engine had plunged into an open switch.

The station was partially wrecked and the broken train staggered on until it struck the freight house, a few hundred feet further on. Ten heavy timbers stopped the engine and it turned over on its side.

The town, with its 1,000 inhabitants was awakened by the terrific shock.

The wreck caught fire and the rescuers fought with the flames to recover the dead and succor the wounded. Few people in the forward car, a combination smoker and baggage car escaped death or injury.

Cleveland was quickly notified and a relief train, bearing doctors and nurses was hurried to the scene.

Assistant Superintendent Moon, of the Lake Shore, accompanied the train while Painesville and Willoughby also sent physicians.

Meanwhile every ambulance in the city of Cleveland was summoned to the Union depot and arrangements were made with hospitals to care for the injured.

Early this morning Mr. Moon gave out this statement:

"It looks like malicious interference. Three-quarters of an hour before the limited was due, train No. 10, a fast passenger, went through here. The switches were all right then and the train went through without stopping. At 9:20 o'clock the wrecked train struck an open switch in front of the depot at Mentor and crashed through the freight depot. The conductor rushed back and found that the switch was open and locked open. I have no theory as to how the switch became open, but the wrecked train showed that some one tampered with the switch."

Conductor Alex Campbell, of the train, made a statement which completely bore out that of Moon. He said he had found the switch open and locked. It worked all right when tested.

W. H. Marshall, general superintendent of the Lake Shore, was early at the Union depot. He talked to the trainmen on the wrecked flyer and while declining to make a positive statement at that time, indicated his belief that the switch had been intentionally tampered with.

A great crowd met the relief train as

TREMONT HOTEL SOLD FOR $10,000

NEW PROPRIETORS OF WEST END HOSTELRY ARE EMBREY & COFFMAN.

Landlord Frischen, Formerly of Akron, Will Become Train Dispatcher on Burlington Railroad.

A real estate transaction took place in West Newark Wednesday, involving the sum of $10,000 and through which Messrs. Henry Embrey and Daniel Coffman became the owners of the new Tremont hotel and adjoining properties on Union street, formerly owned by B. H. Frischen. Mr. Frischen was formerly a train dispatcher at Akron, Ohio, in the employ of the Pennsylvania system, but retired from the road and took charge of this property, which is situated just east of the railway tracks on Union street. The Tremont house was erected about two years ago, and Mr. Frischen has managed it successfully for some time. Mr. Daniel Coffman of Union street, and his son-in-law, Henry Embrey, purchased the hotel Wednesday, together with the two houses adjoining the property on the north, for a consideration of $10,000. Mr. Embrey will manage the new place. He proposes refurnishing and refitting the entire building and will conduct bowling alleys in the basement, while the hotel and bar will be run on the same principles as in the past. The new owners will take possession Monday June 26.

Mr. B. H. Frischen will return to the railroad work, and will be employed as train dispatcher for the Burlington road.

CAB LINE STARTS FROM JOHNSTOWN

ELECTRIC LINE TO COLUMBUS IS TO BE COMPLETED IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

Village to Have New Railway Station. Five Thousand Logs Shipped. Fountain Wanted.

Johnstown, O., June 22.—Yesterday a back line was established between Johnstown and Gahanna, over the proposed electric line. This line is just a forerunner of the electric road to build up trade. The fare to Columbus and return is one dollar. This includes the fare on the car from Gahanna. This line will run a back and forth from Gahanna on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and also on Sundays if justifiable.

Manager Stevens says that all arrangements are complete for building and equipping the road, as soon as the finance company investigates titles, prior to paying over the money. The electric line to Johnstown is a sure thing. Just a little time for developments is all that is required.

Where is the W. C. T. U.? Why not have a drinking fountain opposite Buik's block on the corner of the Park?

The log yards are now cleaned for the first time in over a year, over five thousand having been shipped to the hoop factories at Mt. Vernon and Centerville since last summer.

Mrs. Kate Wood of Columbus, is visiting at the home of her brother, A. N. Wells.

Truman Baughman's new residence on West Coshocton street, is completed.

Rev. Howard Wright of Columbus is home with his parents and friends this week.

Chas. Dinsmore has returned to our town again and is at work in the John Barber shop.

There will be a fine new depot built here this summer, with brick platform, and a large freight room to accommodate the increase of trade.

The sad death of Mrs. Frank Mount, Saturday, cast a gloom over the entire neighborhood. She leaves a husband and eight children, their ages being from one to 17 years. The stricken family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

SURPRISE PARTY

Given by Neighbors in Honor of Mrs. John Headlee's Birthday Near Kirkersville.

On Saturday, June 18, Mrs. John Headlee who resides on Meadow Brook farm near Ontville, met with a delightful surprise. About 1 o'clock she went to Kirkersville, two miles distant on an errand, accompanied by her husband and sons. Returning about 4 o'clock she beheld in the dining room, which she first entered, the table spread for twelve, decorated with roses, and like the traditional one, fairly groaning under its load of goodies. Passing into the sitting room she soon discovered who had caused things to be thus, for gathered around the room were about thirty of her friends and neighbors who under the superintendency of Mrs. Nancy Clark had met to celebrate her birthday and when a few hours later the happy crowd separated, it was with many thanks to Mrs. Clark for the delightful way in which she had planned affairs and with best wishes to Mrs. Headlee for many more happy years of life.

Kroger Hitched Himself Up—Went Crazy Trying to Save Warner From the Gallows.

Louisville, Ky., June 22.—Henry Kroger, a butcher, whose home is at 960 East Market street, is insane as the result of his efforts to save George Warner from being hanged for the murder of Pulaski Leeds, superintendent of machinery of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Kroger abandoned work and devoted his entire time to getting people to sign the Warner petition for clemency. Following the commutation of Warner's sentence Kroger threatened to kill his wife. Shortly afterward he regained his mental equilibrium.

Yesterday he galloped into the First District police station with a halter around his neck and dragging a pair of shafts after him. He imagines he is a horse. He is also under the surprising delusion that Russell Sage is going to send him money. He will be sent to the asylum.

"There is an epidemic of wife-beating in Homestead," said the Burgess, "and the usual fine and costs do not seem to stop it."

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

Were Opposed by President Roosevelt In the Rebate Case.

HARMON WAS NOT SUSTAINED

Latter Would Have Instituted Action Against the Railway Officials, Including Secretary of the Navy Morton—Chief Executive Praises the Integrity of the Latter.

Washington, June 22.—In a complimentary vein President Roosevelt has discussed the integrity and ability of Paul Morton, former vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company, and now concluding his duties as secretary of the navy that he may assume the chairmanship of board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society of New York. These expressions are contained in two letters, one addressed to the attorney general and the other to Mr. Morton. The letters were made public by the administration together with a number of others, which, taken together, show the precise point of difference between the department of justice and Messrs. Harmon and Judson, who recently resigned as special counsel for the government rebate case involving the Santa Fe railroad and the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. The special counsel wished to bring contempt proceedings against the officers of the road, which would have included Mr. Morton. Their position was that the testimony adduced before the interstate commerce commission established a violation of the court order of March 25, 1902, restraining the company from executing any agreement to transport interstate traffic at rates lower than the published tariff of the road. This testimony, they contended, constituted a prima facie case against the officers of the road, and the only way to ascertain their guilt or innocence was through contempt proceedings.

Attorney General Moody opposed bringing the contempt proceedings on the ground that while the evidence before the commission might show a violation of the injunction by the road, it contained nothing connecting any officer of the company with such violation. President Roosevelt took the same view. Both the president and the attorney general agreed that contempt proceedings should be instituted impersonally against the corporation in both the Colorado Fuel and the International Harvester case. The latter case, the president says, stands exactly on the same footing, and involves practically all of the western roads.

GASKILL FORGERIES

Responsible For Failure of a Prominent Financial Institution.

Philadelphia, June 22.—The City Trust and Safe Deposit company, for years rated among the most reliable financial institutions in the community, closed its doors, and Albert L. Tabor, a state bank examiner, was appointed temporary receiver. The company will liquidate, and J. Hampton Moore, its president, will probably be appointed permanent receiver. It is the belief of the board of directors as well as Receiver Tabor that all depositors will be paid in full. This, however, will be determined by the permanent receiver. It is believed a new company will be organized. The failure of the company was the direct issue of the forgeries of the late Benjamin H. Gaskill, the banker, who had raised many certificates of stock from one to 100 shares and borrowed money on them.

NO AGREEMENT

Between Wehrle Company and Polishers—Statement Made by C. R. Atherton, National Officer.

C. R. Atherton of Cincinnati, eighth vice president of the Metal Polishers and Buffers International union, who, with J. C. Cochell of Detroit, ninth vice president, has been here together with Secretary Bishop of the State Board of Arbitration, endeavoring to settle the strike of polishers at the Wehrle foundry, said to the Advocate Thursday that the public has a wrong impression of the conditions.

Mr. Atherton says that the trouble has not resolved itself simply into recognition of the union, but that the strikers are ready to meet with the company and discuss the grievances and agree upon a basis of settlement. He says that the officers presented an agreement to the Wehrle company whereby it was to employ none but union men and that this was rejected, after which the strikers' representatives met Carl Norpell and Edward Kibler, representing the Wehrle company, and gave them this memorandum of agreement for submission to the company:

"MEMORANDUM.

"Between the Wehrle Stove Co. and their employees working in the Polishing and Buffing rooms. The Wehrle Stove Co. promise to re-instate all employees who were employed on June 1, 1905, without discrimination, and said employees also agree to obey all shop rules made by said company, and work for the best interests of the firm.

"The company promises to start low their employees to wash up in bucket other grade of emery (No. 80) and a sufficient number of wheels to properly do the work.

"Regarding a place to wash up and hang their clothes, the Wehrle Stove Co. further promises to erect a suitable place for both, as soon as convenient, but in the meantime will allow to protect them from the dirt and its furnished by themselves, the company furnishing hot water, and provide a temporary place to hang clothes so as to protect them from the dirt and dust.

"In hiring men in the future the company agrees to pursue its former policy of not discriminating against union men, and agrees to employ experienced polishers and buffers. In case the company is unable, at any time to obtain experienced men, they will confer with the shop committee of their employees for the purpose of getting such help. The employees agree to co-operate with the company whenever asked to do so, in assisting them by furnishing such experienced men as may be required.

"There shall be a shop committee of the employees, whose duty it shall be to see that the men live up to the rules of the factory, and who shall confer with the foreman in case of any grievance the men may have.

"It is the intention of both parties to this agreement to live up to it in good faith, and with a spirit that will promote harmony for all concerned."

The memorandum was not accepted and the situation remains as it was on June 2, when the strike was inaugurated.

The Wehrle company has a number of men working in the place of those who quit work three weeks ago.

MRS. RITTER DEAD

Little Grandchild Found Her Dead in Bed Thursday Morning at St. Louisville, O.

A very sad death occurred Thursday morning at St. Louisville, ten miles north of Newark, on the Newark and Mt. Vernon road. Mrs. Margaret Ritter, widow of the late Mathias Ritter, was found dead in her bed Thursday morning about 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Koonitz, in St. Louisville, with whom she lived.

About the time mentioned the little eight year old granddaughter of Mrs. Ritter got out of bed and went to her mother's bed and awoke her and said, "Mamma, grandma is so cold; she don't speak to me."

Mrs. Koonitz hastened to her mother's bed and found that the vital spark had fled. Dr. Marriott was called at once, but it was found that Mrs. Ritter was beyond all human help. She had died of heart failure. She had retired the night before saying that she felt unusually well and she made no outcry or struggle during the night, but passed peacefully away. Mrs. Ritter was aged 70 years and leaves several children and grandchildren. She was a devoted Christian woman. She member of the Lutheran church, he loved and respected by all. At this writing the funeral arrangements have not been made.

BOWEN'S REPLY TO ROOSEVELT

Former Minister Intimates That He Was Offered a Bribe.

SHARPLY ATTACKS LOOMIS

Claims the Statement He Attempted to Steal or Otherwise Improperly Procure Evidence Is Unwarranted. Criticizes the Action of the Executive Department of the Government.

Washington, June 22.—In reply to President Roosevelt's letter dismissing him from the diplomatic service as a result of the investigation made by Secretary Taft into the controversy between Herbert W. Bowen, former minister to Venezuela, and Francis B. Loomis, first assistant secretary of state, Mr. Bowen has made public a lengthy statement in which he declares that the "Venezuelan scandal" constitutes a national disgrace. He asserts that "the Loomis scandal" pervaded Caracas and constantly "grew worse and worse." Mr. Bowen says that shortly after he called the matter to the attention of the department of state he received a cable offer from Washington of diplomatic promotion that would remove him from Caracas. "I admit," says Bowen, "that I regarded the offer as an attempt to bribe me, veiled under the offer of a higher position and inspired by Mr. Loomis. I make no doubt that in the course of the recent inquiry it has been sufficiently plain that I did not think Mr. Loomis an honest man and that I did not believe his conduct as minister to Venezuela had been honorable."

Discussing the rumors he says he found current in Caracas affecting Mr. Loomis' integrity, Mr. Bowen says:

"Mr. Loomis, while minister, was reported to have used his public position to fill his private purse by obtaining interests in concessions and in various claims against the Venezuelan government. He was commonly thought also to have been in the pay of the Bermudez Asphalt company, and to have made use of his own official position to give color to the belief that the United States government was especially favorable to the side of the company in its controversy with the Venezuelan authorities. I had no means of refuting these scandalous statements. Their substantial truth was assumed by my diplomatic colleagues as well as by the general public at Caracas."

Charges Against Loomis.

After referring to the appearance of Loomis' charges in several papers, Mr. Bowen says: "To say that I instigated these charges is the product of a heated imagination. It was right after this that I was summoned by the state department to Washington, and a departmental inquiry was made into Mr. Loomis' conduct in Venezuela, and I was dismissed from the diplomatic service. Yet I am not either responsible for Mr. Loomis' unsavory reputation in Caracas nor for the circulation of scandalous reports about him. He established his reputation himself, while living there as American minister from 1897 to 1901, and the statements charging him with dishonest and dishonorable conduct were made with such detail of circumstances that mere denial by me was useless."

Referring to the documents left by his predecessor in the legation at Caracas and forwarded by Mr. Bowen to the state department, the latter says: "I can not better express my own feelings in regard to their contents than in the words of the secretary of state, who, in his letter acknowledging their receipt, said: 'I have been greatly surprised and pained in reading the documents you sent me.'"

Refers to Mayer's Letter.

Mr. Bowen also gives the text of a letter from Charles R. Mayer of Columbus, addressed to Francis B. Loomis, and referring to services rendered by Mr. Loomis in securing a contract for furnishing a loan to Venezuela. Mr. Bowen's statement concludes: "Mr. Loomis explains that if this contract, which was to give a million and a quarter, had gone through, he had intended to resign. The conduct of the man who as American minister was willing to participate in such transactions as the foregoing is considered by his official superior as merely 'indiscreet,' and he is retained in the public service. My personal fate and fortune are of light interest to the public. But it does concern the whole country that its diplomatic representatives abroad should be men of clean character and unsullied reputation, and every American citizen should be especially concerned when a man who, as minister to a foreign state, has been the cause of grave scandals affecting his personal integrity and the honor of his government, is promoted to the high office of first assistant secretary of state, and controls important negotiations with the very government at whose capital he caused the scandals and gained a tainted reputation."

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to extend my sincere thanks to my friends and neighbors; also the Iron Molders Union and Eagles for their many acts of kindness shown me during the sickness and death of my husband, Lawrence Evans. Mrs. Stella Evans.

UGLY RUNAWAY ON MAIN STREET

CHARLES HUFFMAN HAS VERY NARROW ESCAPE FROM INJURY.

Mr. Cain With Heroic Bravery Ran in Front of Horse and Stopped the Animal.

One of the most frightful looking runaways that has occurred in this city for a long time, took place Thursday at the noon hour on West Main street, and was witnessed by hundreds of people.

Mr. Charles Huffman who resides at 261 Broad street, had driven down to transact some business, and just as he was getting into the buggy again, near the corner of West Main and Third streets, the horse frightened at something and ran away. Mr. Huffman managed to hold on to the buggy with the greater part of his body hanging between the front and rear wheels. People who witnessed the runaway expected every second to see his legs caught in the wheels and a terrible accident result. Just as the frightened animal reached the corner of Fourth and Main street, Mr. Ebenor Cain, with heroic bravery dashed into the middle of the street, and at the risk of his life, succeeded in stopping the animal, thereby undoubtedly saving Mr. Huffman from a horrible death. Mr. Cain's act was roundly applauded by the large number of people who witnessed it.

Time For Weed Cutting.
Now is the time to cut your weeds, as they are quite ready for the harvest. There are some people in the city who are not evidently aware of this fact. The scythes seem to be rusty and out of order. At any rate there are many people who are not cutting weeds from their door yards, to say nothing about the weeds on their vacant lots. These people should get busy, as the health officer will soon be after them. This observation does not apply to Newark folks generally. Most of them have cut or are cutting their weeds Newark, as a whole is more than sustaining her reputation as a clean, healthy city, and if there are any ugly patches here and there they have no right to be there, as they are as unhealthy as they are unsightly.

Elks at Buckeye Lake.
The first annual outing for the year 1905 of Newark lodge No. 351, B. P. O. E., took place at Buckeye Lake on Wednesday. About one hundred members of the order and their ladies took part in the outing, the excessively hot weather interfering with a larger attendance. Very complete arrangements had been made by the efficient committee of arrangements, and the entire affair was a perfect success in every particular. Boat riding, fishing and pleasant social intercourse were enjoyed during the afternoon. An elegant dinner was served in the evening, after which dancing was taken up and indulged in until a late hour. Every one present reports having had a good time, and will look forward with eager anticipation to the next outing.

LIMITED WRECKED

It rolled into the Union depot at 12:30 a. m. bearing its ghastly load of dead and wounded.

One of the passengers gives this graphic description of the train after the accident: "Only one car, the observation car, remained on the track. The combination car and first sleeper were doubled up in the form of a jackpile by the terrible shock, while the heavy iron and timbers were wrenched in every conceivable shape. According to reports the fire which added horror to the wreck was due to the explosion of the boiler of the big engine.

The combination car, partly on top of the engine was at once a mass of flames, the shrieks of the imprisoned passengers rising above the roaring of the flames.
The Mentor fire department quickly responded, but could do little to check the flames.
Many of the dead were so badly burned as to make recognition difficult, almost impossible.

THREE TIMES

Lake Shore's Twentieth Century Limited Made Eastward Run on Fast Schedule in Safety.

Cleveland, June 22.—Three times the Lake Shore railroad's Twentieth Century limited train made its eastward run through Cleveland from Chicago to New York on the famous 18-hour schedule in safety. The fourth time, Wednesday night, the train left the track at Mentor station, 25 miles east of Cleveland, and was piled up in a fiery heap. Of the prominent people who had occupied the train at least 20 met a horrible death in the crash or fire that followed fast upon it, while of the injured survivors only four are expected to live.

Anxious to make time, Engineer Tyler was "letting her out" as the limited took a favorable stretch of track running through Mentor. The train speed at the time was estimated higher than 70 miles an hour. The only witness of the wreck aside from those on the doomed train, was C. J. Minor, night operator at Mentor. Having set the signals to give the limited a clear track, Minor went into the telegraph office and watched for the train through the window. Minor saw the headlight leap into sight and heard the roar of the engine and wheels. He failed to notice that the engine had taken the switch and so far as he knew the train was running safely on the main track. The little station is on the south side of the tracks, which at that point lie due east and west. The side track is north of the main line and the freight house, north of the side track, stood opposite the station. The side track switch is 300 feet west of the station. It is now known that the locomotive, in spite of its great speed, took the switch properly and followed by the forward cars, ran 150 feet on the side track, at a point midway between the switch and station the engine left the rails, plunged along the ties for 50 yards and plowed into the freight house, where it turned end for end. The fatal buffet car partially telescoped the tender. The sleeper next behind was partly crushed and in the fire which destroyed the buffet car was partly burned. The wreck of this sleeper lay overturned to the north of the side track. The next sleeper found lodged just south of the side track, while the rear car, an observation sleeper, kept the rails. The noise and shock of the wreck aroused the village. Soon the inhabitants came running to the scene. The uninjured passengers from the rear sleeper and such others as escaped from wrecked cars joined in the work of rescue.

ONE OF THE VICTIMS.

Alton, O., June 22.—A. A. Bradley, killed in the wreck at Mentor, was one of the most prominent attorneys of this city. His dying wish was that he might see his wife before death. A special trolley car was placed at her disposal and Mrs. Bradley started for Cleveland. She reached the hospital half an hour after her husband had died.

SHOULD STOP SPEED WAR.

Columbus, O., June 22.—Railroad Commissioner Morris says the demand of the traveling public for faster time is responsible for such a wreck as that at Mentor. There is an apparent sentiment among the state authorities that the coming legislature should take some action to stop the speed war and to call upon other states to cooperate.

The new Speaker of the House of Commons, James William Lowther, comes of one of the most ancient families of England, for when Sir Richard Lowther was High Sheriff of Cumberland in the eighth and ninth of Elizabeth, he was the thirteenth link in succession. Lowther is the family name of the earls of Lonsdale, and the Speaker is grandson of the first earl.

Fickle Mr. Herrick.

One of Governor Herrick's vital weaknesses as an executive officer is the fact that he changes his mind about every time he changes his linen. It generally takes the constant attention of the kitchen cabinet and a train of political nurses to hold him to any one line of action for more than fifteen minutes at a time. Every newspaper representative who did legislative work at Columbus will vouch for the statement made. Every friend of the governor who was engaged at that time in propping him up in the executive chair knows this to be a fact. He was perhaps one of the most prolific governors we have ever had when it came to giving out interviews. He was almost as prolific in giving them out as he was each succeeding day, at the behest of his close advisers, in modifying what he had said or contradicting them in their entirety. It was never safe really to leave him alone and several of his most intimate associates were worried to the verge of nervous breakdown coaching him and guiding his tender feet along the thorny paths of the chief executiveship.

His numerous outgivings on the Chism pooling bill is perhaps one of the best illustrations of the facts set forth. He was at first favorably disposed toward that piece of proposed legislation, said so and promised Dan Hanna and others that he would sign it. Then he asked for certain modifications, some of which were made. Then came protests from elements which Herrick, at that time, regarded more highly than he does today, and he vetoed the bill. The lobby that labored for the passage of the Chism bill was a powerful one but Governor Herrick was too busy alternately talking and then retracting what he said to discover it. One year and a half later some of his lieutenants scented the tracks of the lobby while on a desperate search for an issue and the whole pack, Blanche, Tray, Sweetheart and the rest are now in full cry after the monster. There are some political cries that make "Good enough a Morgan until after election," but as much cannot be said of Governor Herrick's belated discovery of the lobby.

Shall Corruption Cease?

The revelations of the fathomless political corruptions in Pennsylvania, should not surprise any intelligent citizen and voter, here in Ohio. It is the natural result of 24 years of unbroken Republican boss and gang rule, and 24 years of unbroken Republican gang and boss legislation.

The political corruption is greater in Pennsylvania than in Ohio, for the reason that Republican gang and boss rule is twice as old in the former as in the latter state. Political corruption partakes of the nature of an arithmetical progression, ascending according to the squares of its progress.

In Ohio the corrupt political gangs and bosses are built on the Pennsylvania model. They only require the necessary years of unbroken power to equal the achievements of the Pennsylvania crowd which has sacked and looted the great city of Philadelphia.

The dynamic force of this organized corruption lies in an unbroken lease of absolute power in official positions and in the halls of legislation, state and municipal. Absolute expulsion is the only remedy.

That United States Senators and even Judges of the courts, and high Federal officials, should be mixed up in this business, which includes both systematic public robbery and the defeat the public will by scientifically stuffing the ballot box, is not strange. The organization and the organization adds the other things to them.

The Pennsylvania looters rise from penury to become dwellers in palaces by the sea, in a score of years. But have not officials in Ohio risen from barefoot wayfarers, to the ownership of trust companies, banks and buildings that tower so high that they fret the blue cerulean. And all this within the 12 years of absolute boss and gang rule in the Buckeye state.

It is but exultatory flattery to say that any man is so bereft of reason as not to understand that the Republican machine, known more popularly as the "organization" or party, is responsible for the conditions in Pennsylvania and Ohio—conditions that are confluent and corrosive in the former; pustulent and malignant in the latter.

The one great, overpowering issue in Ohio this year is the extermination of grating, looting, hoodling and public and private spoliation. All the beneficiaries of these loathsome crimes will be on the side of Boss Cox and Coism. All opposed will be under the banner of plain honesty.

You must choose your standard for yourself. You must make the bed in which you prefer to lie.

FOR AN OUTING

Go to St. Clair Flats, Catch Ideal Black Bass and Stop at the Hotel Avery.

Have you had an outing this year? If not, go to the St. Clair Flats, in Michigan, and have some genuine sport with the finest and gamiest specimens of the small mouth black bass to be found anywhere in all North America. Stop at one of the comfortable little hotels on an island and your outing will be ideal. Such a place is the famous Avery Hotel, Pearl Beach, Mich., P. O.

When you go there engage Mr. Jos. Pipes, or some one of the other good guides to be had, to take you out in a boat where the bass are numerous found, and if you are an average angler you can easily do the rest. If you want to land about all the big ones you can hook, Mr. Pipes will kindly advise you not to be in too big a hurry in pulling them in, for they put up an awful fight and are wonderfully skilful at breaking loose. And if you are guided by his advice when a three or four pounder is bending your rod nearly double, it may require several minutes to get him into the boat, but the intense excitement and your triumph will be a pleasure that will fully compensate the time spent in the effort. If you are satisfied with your luck after catching ten good ones, come in and exchange your fish stories with the other enthusiastic men and women anglers who are taking comfort on the wide verandas of the hotel.

If you are content to catch any of the other various kinds of good fish that inhabit those waters, you will find them numerous enough to afford you ample sport.

The landlord at the Avery keeps a complete record of the catches made by his guests. One average angler had 61 fine bass to his credit on the 19th inst. of the present year, being the result of six trips out over those waters under the guidance of Mr. Pipes.

Mr. Avery and his estimable wife are hosts with whom every guest will be certain to stop again after enjoying their acquaintance and experiencing their care and hospitality.

AS A SPY

For European Powers Mrs. Hoyt Considered Herself Employed, Tiffin Doctor Testifies.

Tiffin, O., June 22.—The reading of the Jennie Williams deposition was concluded last night, and it is thought that the prosecution in the Hoyt will case will rest some time today. Dr. Elmer E. Potter of this city, testified that he considered Mrs. Hoyt insane, and that her father was at least very peculiar.

In 1902 Dr. Potter was called to treat Mrs. Hoyt for "pink eye." He stated that on different occasions Mrs. Hoyt had informed him that she was in the employ of the English, Russian and French governments as a spy, and that she had been presented at court to Queen Alexandra, then the Princess of Wales.

When Mrs. Hoyt talked in this manner witness stated she was absolutely sober. The doctor related an occasion when Mrs. Hoyt had taken him out in the grounds and had shown him a hedge behind which she claimed her husband, Reuben Hoyt, had been hiding all the previous night. Hoyt was undoubtedly in New York at the time.

The witness also stated that Mrs. Hoyt had implored him to protect her from Judge Dunn. The doctor weighs about 95 pounds, and this statement created a ripple of merriment.

WENT IN WADING

And Three Boys Lost Their Lives—One Poor Mother May Die as Result of Shock.

Cambridge, O., June 22.—Gilbert McCollum, Harry Powell and Alva Powell, aged 10, 11 and 12 years respectively, were drowned in Mud Creek near the Klondike mines, one mile east of Cambridge, yesterday afternoon. The boys with John Synce, went in wading where the creek had overflowed the banks and struck deep water before realizing their danger. A large crowd of miners immediately gathered and began dragging for the bodies. Late in the afternoon two had been recovered. When notified of the disaster Mrs. McCollum, who is in ill health, was prostrated and her death is feared.

JOLLY TIME AT CAMP TOBOSO

NEWARK BOYS ENTERTAINED ONE HUNDRED VISITORS WEDNESDAY.

Prize Given for Best Decorated and Neatest Tent—Camp Breaks Monday, June 26.

Camp Toboso, June 22.—Yesterday being visitors' day at Camp Toboso, the boys in camp began preparations early in the morning for the reception of their friends. The camp was decorated and an all day program arranged. About one hundred guests were in camp, and 97 camp dinners were served.

The morning's program began with a volley ball contest in which the occupants of the various tents, which are named after the great universities, Harvard, Yale, Cornell, West Point, and Y. M. C. A. Training School, were the contestants. Yale won, scoring the most points.

Mr. E. R. Turner of Columbus, offered a prize of $1. to the tent which should receive the most votes from the visitors for general neatness and artistic decoration.

Flags, cedar, ferns, wild flowers and festoons of beautifully colored mushrooms were used for decorations. When the decorations were complete the camp presented a very pleasing picture.

West Point was awarded the prize for having the most artistically decorated tent.

After dinner the boys entertained their friends with a water program of sports, the main features being the long diving and the shooting of the rapids by the best swimmers.

After supper a campfire was built and the visitors who remained gathered around with the boys and enjoyed an informal program. Mr. E. R. Turner, basso, sang "Asleep in the Deep," and Misses Margaret Matticks and Crea Miller sang "Heidelberg" very beautifully.

Camp stories were told by Messrs. David Matticks, F. C. Edmiston, A. A. Diersole and G. M. Pinneo. C. C. Grimsby puzzled the company with some sleight of hand tricks.

The boys had a good night's sleep. They will break camp, Monday, June 26th.

NATURAL GAS MEN

Think the Flow at Butler Well Has Been Overestimated—Land Abut Butler is Leased.

Expert natural gas men at Utica, the center of the great Licking-Knox county gas field, discount the reports emanating from Mansfield, O., regarding the strike of gas near Butler. Press dispatches sent out Wednesday night say the well is flowing 5,000,000 feet daily, and that every farm within a radius of 20 miles has been leased by gas and oil men. One of the leading gas men of Utica, who desires that his name be withheld, visited this Butler well just after the gas had been struck, and he gives it as his opinion that the flow is less than 1,000,000 feet daily. Wells of this size are common in this county. The last big one to come in is that near Morgan Center, this week, which shows a daily flow of 5,500,000 feet.

SWALLOW

Fell at Girl's Feet as She Read Essay on "Flight of the Swallow"—Fatality is Feared.

Lexington, Ky., June 22.—Miss Mary Elita Proctor, daughter of Thomas Proctor, of this city, was the victim of a strange coincidence on the occasion of her graduation from Cardone Catholic school in Georgetown, and as a result her mother lives in fear of a fatality.

Just as the young woman stepped on the platform to read an essay a swallow flew in at the window and fell prostrate at her feet. Before proceeding, the girl picked up the bird and with tender hands revived it, and walking to the window permitted it to fly away, after which she began her essay, the subject of which was "The Flight of the Swallow."

This remarkable coincidence recalled to the mother the fate of another of her children several years ago, which was surrounded by a similar experience. On that occasion a swallow flew in at the window of the Proctor home and found lodgment behind a picture of one of the children hanging on the wall, and there it was found dead. A few weeks later the original of the picture also died and Mrs. Proctor believed the visit of the bird was a premonition of the child's death.

Mrs. Proctor has been made to take a hopeful view of the situation by her husband and daughter, however, by the fact that the recent visit of the swallow was not attended by fatal results, but that it was revived and went on its way rejoicing.

THREE SISTERS

Are Married at the Same Time in a Little Church at Pittsburgh, Pa., Yesterday.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 22.—Marriage licenses were issued by Clerk Herman L. Hegner at the court house yesterday for a triple wedding. The brides to be are three sisters residing at No. 32 Knox avenue, Knoxville. The names of the contracting parties are Frank J. Rourke and Miss Esther Victoria McBride; Louis C. Murray of Homestead and Miss Emma Yourall McBride; and Philip J. Rodgers of Knoxville, and Miss Agnes Gertrude McBride.

The three couples came to the marriage license office together and formed a jolly party. The sisters are daughters of William and Marion McBride. An extended honeymoon trip will be taken by the three couples.

The family of the prospective brides has resided in Knoxville for five years. The prospective grooms have been intimate friends for years, and their marriage on the same day to three sisters adds a finishing touch to a pretty little romance.

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF NEWARK GUESTS

Mrs. John Church of Zanesville Entertains for Mrs. George W. and Mrs. Frank Chase.

Zanesville, O., June 22.—With the residence beautifully decorated with fragrant flowers and plants of various kinds, nearly 200 members of Zanesville's social circle attended the reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John Church at her home on North Seventh street.

The honor guests were Mrs. George W. Chase and Mrs. Frank Chase of Newark, who are visiting Mrs. Church. From 2 to 5 o'clock the assemblage was a brilliant one, the guests paying their respects to the hostess and Mesdames Chase.

Those who assisted the hostess were Mrs. George Hutchinson, Mrs. Webster and Miss Clara Huff. In the dining room the assistants were Mrs. Ed Rathbun, Mrs. E. W. Allen and Mrs. J. T. Davis. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. A. T. Brunan, Miss Margaret Ebert and Miss Mac Leslie.

Picnic Postponed.

Zanesville, O., June 22.—The local High school class of 1904, which had planned a picnic at Buckeye Lake for yesterday, has indefinitely postponed the trip because of weather and other unforeseen occurrences. It is not yet decided when the trip will be made.

REMOVAL OF JUDGE SOUGHT IN NEW YORK

Albany, N. Y., June 22.—The legislature convened in special session to consider the case of Justice Warren B. Hooker of the state supreme court. In his message to the legislature informing it of the purpose of the extraordinary session, Governor Higgins recites the result of the legislative inquiry into the conduct of Justice Hooker in connection with postal affairs at Dunkirk and Fredonia. He points out that upon the recommendation of the investigating committee the assembly voted that proceedings be taken for the removal of Justice Hooker from office, but that the legislature adjourned, leaving the matter in abeyance. The governor therefore recommends for consideration at the special session "the conduct of said Warren B. Hooker, and the question of his removal from the office of justice of the supreme court."

WIFE'S AFFECTIONS

Prof. George Alleges, Were Alienated and He Wants Damages in Sum of Ten Thousand.

Delaware, O., June 22.—Wallace W. George, professor of voice, Ohio Wesleyan university, has filed a suit for $10,000 damages against Eliza L. Albright and Lewis Albright, her husband, alleging that they alienated his wife's affections.

Prof. George, who has one of the most responsible positions in the college here, and Miss Cornelia Albright, daughter of Rev. L. M. Albright, one of the most prominent divines in Ohio, were married in this city. Shortly after the wedding the petitioner alleges, the parents meddled with his family affairs, and as a result they took his wife to their home and forbade the plaintiff any communication with her; that while she was ill he sent her flowers and that the same were returned to him.

ELEPHANTS HAD BATH IN RIVER

Battleboro, Vt., June 22.—When the John Robinson Show arrived here yesterday the management decided that the time was opportune to permit the herd of eight elephants with the circus to enjoy a bath in the Connecticut river. The big caravan arrived at an early hour in the morning, and there was no fear that any disturbance would result. It had been warm throughout the night, and when the big beasts got into the cool water they set up a chorus of trumpeting that aroused the natives and brought a big crowd to the river banks. Then the elephants began to toss water around with their trunks in a most promiscuous fashion. Wm. Simpson has a cottage on the river bank near where the elephants were enjoying their bath, and is evidently a good sleeper, for the noise did not disturb him, but when the eight big fellows lay loose with their trunk shower spray that flooded his bedroom on the second floor and washed out his furniture and furniture, William took to the high grass, fearing that a tidal wave was sweeping over the town. It was great sport while it lasted, but late last evening Manager Robinson counted out $500 to repair the damage to the Simpson bedroom, and he never smiled while he was doing it.

Porch Shades

Vudor shades add another room to your house. A delightful cool, breezy room, where the whole family can practically live during the heated season in comfort. Vudor shades afford just the seclusion you desire. A shade suitable for a porch should temper the sun's heat and admit whatever breeze may be desired.

Vudor shades do both—No other shades do. Then, in addition, if the shades will screen your porch from the inquisitive gaze of passers-by, yet permit you to see the outside scene, you have perfect shades. Vudor shades will—no other shades do

Mr. Hosters Auto Breaks at Hebron. Children's Day Program. Personals.

Hebron, O., June 22.—Our prosperous little village that has for the past two or three years assumed city airs, owing to the telephone connection, natural gas and interurban service, is still growing and is today one of the most thriving villages in the state. The old town, now known as the C. B. L. & N. interurban center, is a most delightful place in which to live. Visitors to our village note the improvement which will be much more marked when the new brick bank and several fine dwellings in houses that are now under way are completed. Our citizens rejoice in its advancement and hope to see its population doubled in a few years. It is also rumored we are to have a gymnasium in the near future. How delighted the young men and boys will be over the prospect of a place of this kind.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. NEWARK LOSES THREE HIT GAME

CURT ELSTON AND A BUNCH OF SACK PILFERERS DO IT AT ZANESVILLE.

Ten Stolen Bases is Record for Moguls in Wednesday's Game—New Man Plays Well.

Zanesville, N. Newark.—We can't win a ball game when the opposing slabman allows but three hits. Neither can we win when the "other fellows" steal ten bases. Right there is where we lost out at Zanesville Wednesday afternoon. Enoch Somers umpired the game but, an honest Newark fan can not blame the loss of the game to Somers. We can say for Enoch that he umpired a good game.

The story of the defeat is summed up in the first two sentences. It was purely inability to hit and inability to prevent Drumm's men from pilfering sacks that proved our undoing.

It was a pretty game from the standpoint of a Zanesville fan. Curt Elston allowed but three measly hits and two of these came in the last inning. On the other hand, while Teddy Purcell was not batted freely, a bunch of four bingles in the eighth netted two runs which proved to be the winners.

A half dozen faithful Newark fans were courageous enough to journey to Zanesville for the game and could only sit and receive the jokes of the Mogul roolers while they stole one base after another without trouble. It looked like a shut out when Newark came to bat in the ninth inning. New Man McDonald picked up his stick and stepped to the plate and after getting two strikes and three balls, landed one for a clean hit.

Purcell followed with one to Kustus who threw to Drumm to catch McDonald. He was a little late and Mack was safe. Snodgrass got a timely bingle over Drumm's head and scored McDonald. Elston ran to the plate to receive the throw from the outfield and like a schoolboy stood on the base line. McDonald evidently had played ball before and probably has been a football player. He hit the star twirler an awful jolt and rolled him several feet.

Elston felt that he had not been treated politely but probably did not stop to think that it was discourteous to stand in front of a visitor.

Purcell scored nevertheless and when Fields hit another ball to Tim Flood behind third base, Tim threw short to Huling who muffed the ball, allowing Fields to get on first. The half dozen Newark fans took a new lease on life and began to root, hoping to tie the game, but it was all useless. Wratton hit a fly to Flood and Fields and Doyle were retired on a double when Joe hit to Drumm, the latter throwing to first.

Joe Doyle disappointed many Newark fans in the Zanesville game. His throw to second was wild. His attempt to stop a double steal failed on two occasions, probably through Teddy's delivery which was unusually slow Wednesday.

At second, McDonald had a good day. His only error was on Doyle's throw which went way wild and McDonald was trying to save the man from reaching third. He flied cleanly and threw nicely to first.

FAN GOSSIP.

McDonald, Snow's new second baseman, played a good game Wednesday. He caught Bert Blue's little fly over second while running sideways. He got one of the three hits, a clean one to right.

The Times-Recorder at Zanesville terms McDonald's playing rowdism. That's a hard term to apply to it, especially when Elston deliberately attempted to block McDonald when he was coming home.

The Times-Recorder also takes a shot at Somers. It seems that the Mogul bunch is sore because Newark made three runs.

Fields in left field made a sensational catch of a lone fly from the bat of Kustus. Immediately after catching the ball, he jumped over a big mud puddle which adorned the left garden. The Zanesville grounds at Gant park are certainly the poorest in the circuit. The infield is good but the outfield is rough and in wet weather is a sea of mud.

Purcell handled Flood's bunt in the fourth inning very nicely. He caught Drumm at second but Flood reached first in safety.

Only once before the ninth inning did any of the Newark men get on first. That was "Rats" Wratton who got a clean single after two men were gone. He died when Doyle flew out to Bill Miller in left.

Bert Blue is a catcher whose equal can not be found in any but fast company. He has the name of allowing out one stolen base this season, but this is not official.

is very much like the blossoming of a flower. Its beauty and perfection depends entirely upon the care bestowed upon its parent. Expectant mothers should have the tenderest care. They should be spared all worry and anxiety. They should eat plenty of good nourishing food and take gentle exercises. This will go a long way toward preserving their health and their beauty as well as that of the little one to come. But to be absolutely sure of a short and painless labor they should use friends that if your grandmother didn't quit being mean to you that you would knock her d—d old head off?"

"No, I never said such a thing."

"Didn't you tell the reporters after the murder that you did not know who killed your grandmother?"

"No, I told them that I did know, and that I thought it was Levi Bevard."

"Did you know that the newspapers printed that statement?"

"They printed several things, that I did not say and they printed some things in a way that I did not say them."

Eva Werts denied that she and her grandmother had any difficulties and said that she had been whipped once or twice but added laconically, "I needed it."

She stated that she and Steve Bevard had met in town on one or two occasions and that she had ridden out to the Bevard home with him. She stated that she at no time made a practice of taking buggy rides with Steve.

The defense then returned to the club and asked where she had seen it before and how she identified it. She said that it was a standard from the sled which she had used on the Monday preceding the tragedy for hauling dirt and that she knew that there were but three on the sled.

Every effort of the attorney for the defense to confuse the witness proved fruitless and many of her replies to his curt questions received answers that were just as sharp. At no time was she confused and seemed to be equal to any question that was put to her.

During the proceedings, all the witnesses in the case were sent to the council chamber until they should be needed. The court room continued to fill rapidly and before the trial adjourned, the room was packed with sweltering auditors.

Afternoon Session.
Shortly after one o'clock the case was resumed. The interest continued unabated and many faces seen in the court room were new, but most of them were visitors at the morning session.

Eva Werts was again on the stand. The prosecution took up the case again and handed to Eva the notice which her grandmother received from the Peoples Bank. She stated that the notice was received the Sunday before the murder and that she had left it at the bank for collection, bearing her signature, with that of Steve Bevard.

Attorney Smythe introduced a letter alleged to have been written to Steve Bevard about a note which she advised him not to pay. The witness recognized the letter and admitted that she wrote it. The letter spoke of a note of $10 which she told him she would not have paid. The witness denied having written about the ten dollars. She stated that the note referred to was one of $25 and not $10, and that the figures placed by her were erased and "10" substituted. The letter concluded with:

"I remember the present,
I remember the past,
I remember the time
I kissed you last."

Eva Werts stated that a stranger had been sleeping in the barn on Wesley Wright's farm. He claimed that his name was Jake Bayen. Witness stated that the stranger annoyed her grandmother by his presence in the county. Witness stated that she had not seen the man for a month before the tragedy. On the evening before the tragedy she was sitting on the back porch reading the Bible. That she knew the dog was in the kitchen because she played with him before going to bed.

For the third time Thursday, the star witness, Eva Werts, has been compelled to repeat the story of the tragedy in which her grandmother lost her life. Attorney Smythe was merciless in his sharp questions. Eva remained cool throughout the painful ordeal, and told the same story which she has repeated probably dozens of times since the murder.

Thursday afternoon Eva Werts was again on the stand. She described the visit of the prisoner and his wife to the scene of the murder on June 1 and told of her conversation with him. She said she then accused Bevard of the murder and that he threatened her with death if she publicly accused him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schimpf were called to the stand Thursday afternoon. They told of Eva's hurried visit to their home on the night of the murder when she came to sound the alarm. Mr. Schimpf testified that Eva told him that it was a blood relation who had committed the crime. Eva told Mr. Schimpf that she thought the murderer had entered the house by the kitchen door. This shows that the girl had no knowledge of the window.

Witness heard the buggy going over the culvert while Schimpf and Eva were at Nash's house; did not see the rig. After the party reached the Werts home, Schimpf noticed the window on the west side of the house was out. Witness stated that Eva said at breakfast next day, "Nothing like this ever occurred until grandma threatened to push that note that was forced."

She did not tell witness who forged the note. Witness saw the dog urinating in a room when he went into the house with the officers.

The defense will evidently try to prove an alibi. About 50 witnesses have been subpoenaed by the defense.

A LASTING EFFECT.
This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim Made for Doan's Kidney Pills in Newark.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer; but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it.

C. E. Walton, barber, at 54 S. 2d St., and living at 129 Valandigham St., Newark, O., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint and backache with great benefit and take pleasure in adding my endorsement to the testimony already offered in favor of that remedy. I suffered from kidney complaint for a number of years. It was caused, I think, by the nature of my work. Being on my feet all the time my back became weak and a dull heavy pain came which increased in severity until it seemed almost continual. I ached just as bad at night as during the day. After trying a number of remedies without finding relief I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. They cured me. The cure has been lasting and I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney troubles."

J. HOCH IS GRANTED RESPITE BY GOVERNOR DENEEN THURSDAY

Supreme of Illinois, Grants Stay For "Jocko" Briggs, But As State's Attorney Didn't Approve Action In Hoch's Case Preparations For His Execution Were Made Thursday—However, Governor Early In Afternoon, Granted Stay of Execution Till July 28.

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—Governor Deneen today reprieved J. Hoch till July 28, that Hoch may take his case before the Supreme Court. This morning when yesterday's reprieve was countermanded it was thought Hoch would die tomorrow.

Chicago, June 22.—"Jocko" Briggs got a new lease of life from the Supreme court today, when it granted a supersedeas on the motion of his attorneys, in Springfield.

Johann Hoch had his lawyer and Christian adviser in Springfield and also expected to learn today that Governor Deneen would grant him a respite of a week.

Around the criminal court building, however, arrangements were begun for the execution of Hoch tomorrow.

The supersedeas means that Briggs will have a new trial and another chance to prove that he is innocent of the murder of Hans Peterson.

Hoch's hope is in Governor Deneen. The final appeal was made to Governor Deneen today after an order for a stay for a week which he had decided upon was countermanded by the refusal of State's Attorney Healy to agree to the arrangement of giving Hoch another week in which to raise funds to appeal his case.

Hoch was informed that he had been granted a week's stay by Governor Deneen and in the height of his jubilation over the news his hopes were dashed rudely when he learned that State's Attorney Healy refused to approve Asst. State's Attorney Wilson's plan to join with Isadore Plonke, in asking the governor to postpone the day of execution until a week from tomorrow.

Hoch was in a state of nervous collapse today. As the hour of his execution approached, although he tells the other prisoners in the county jail that he believes he will get a respite, he grows more depressed and despondent.

HOCH'S BODY
Offered For $500, Provided Money Is Deposited at Once.

Chicago, June 22.—Johann Hoch, multi-bligamist and convicted wife murderer, it is now expected, will be hanged in the county jail Friday. It was unofficially announced that Governor Deneen would not interfere with the judgment of the jury, which found Hoch guilty after a long trial.

The assumed reason for non-interference is that the record does not show a reversible error. Nevertheless Hoch is attempting to secure money to see what can be done with it in postponing his execution if not procuring a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment. He is offering for the sale of his body for $500 to a physician, provided the money be deposited before the time for execution.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.
The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send for a sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Shined Husbands' Shoes.
Dayton, O., June 22.—The ladies of the Memorial Presbyterian church in "swapping stories" as to the manner in which they earned sufficient money to furnish their church, confessed that many had shined shoes for their husbands to swell the fund, while others went to neighbor's homes and made dresses.

New Traction Financed.
Defiance, O., June 22.—The Defiance, Ann Arbor and Detroit Interurban road, a line to run from this city to Detroit, with general offices at Wauseon, has been financed by a syndicate of Eastern capitalists. Active construction work from this end of the road will be commenced in two weeks.

More Women Convicts.
Columbus, O., June 22.—Two more women prisoners have been received at the penitentiary, Mrs. Harriet Forsythe, alias Ratiff, one year for bigamy from Fayette county, and Sarah Leamon, one year for forgery, from Cuyahoga county. These new arrivals have increased the number of prisoners in the female department to 55, ten above the normal capacity of the department. Quarters have been provided for them by placing cots in one of the corridors.

Oppose the Dime Novel.
Columbus, O., June 22.—The Columbus office of the Union News company, in common with other offices along the Pennsylvania, has received a notice to ship to headquarters at once all that class of literature which, for want of a more specific name, is very well understood under the title of "the dime novel." It seems that at least to this extent the Pennsylvania is to use its influence against pernicious literature. Such trashy compositions will no more be for sale on the trains nor at the stations. The order is said to be particularly directed at detective stories.

Fought In a Cornfield.
Toronto, O., June 22.—As the result of a battle in a cornfield Ernest Thomas, a Sunday-school teacher of Posterville, O., is hanging to life by a mere thread, while Newton Williamson, son of Councilman Williamson, is in jail, awaiting the death of his victim, almost literally larked to pieces with a hoe. The parties implicated are the most prominent people of the section. The fight was precipitated over the desire of Thomas to take a short cut home across the field where the Williamson had labored, and the trip was to the detriment of the corn.

Chink Wielded a Cleaver.
Cincinnati, O., June 22.—Alone in their chop suey restaurant on the second floor of the building at 1205 Vine street Charlie Ching Yoo, the retiring proprietor of the place, and Frank Ching Kay, the new owner, quarreled, and a desperate fight resulted, in which Kay used a meat cleaver. Ching Yoo is now at the city hospital in a dangerous condition, while Kay escaped with the bloody cleaver.

Big Four Stock Increase.
Cincinnati, O., June 22.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company here it was unanimously decided to increase the common stock $11,000,000. This will be used in making a large number of improvements which have been under consideration for some time.

Battle With Copperhead.
Dennison, O., June 22.—Joseph Dougherty, a Panhandle engineer, had a fierce battle with a huge copperhead snake, west of here. His fireman with a pick finally killed the reptile, which measured four feet.

Killed by Lightning.
Waverly, O., June 22.—Russell Anderson, 10, was killed by lightning at his home near Alma. He was closing a window in the second story when struck. Other people in the house at the time escaped injury.

THOMPSON'S BAROSMA.

Do you realize that the annoying kidney trouble of your young children, of your baby, will lead in time to fatal results if not remedied? Thousands of children, of young men and women, die every year because of the neglect of parents to give the proper care in this respect in their early years. Mrs. Fred Lobenz, of Titusville, Pa., writes that her little son, four years old, after being given three bottles of Thompson's Barosma, was permanently cured of bed-wetting, an annoying trouble since babyhood. Mrs. N. F. Laska, of Oil City, Pa., says her five-year-old daughter, after several months of ineffective treatment by physicians for bladder trouble, and being in dangerous condition, was completely cured by six bottles of Thompson's Barosma, Kidney and Liver Cure. Thompson's Barosma is absolutely harmless, 50c. and $1.00.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

Were Opposed by President Roosevelt In the Rebate Case.

HARMON WAS NOT SUSTAINED

Latter Would Have Instituted Action Against the Railway Officials, Including Secretary of the Navy Morton—Chief Executive Praises the Integrity of the Latter.

Washington, June 22.—In a complimentary vein President Roosevelt has discussed the integrity and ability of Paul Morton, former vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company, and now concluding his duties as secretary of the navy that he may assume the chairmanship of board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society of New York. These expressions are contained in two letters, one addressed to the attorney general and the other to Mr. Morton. The letters were made public by the administration together with a number of others, which, taken together, show the precise point of difference between the department of justice and Messrs. Harmon and Judson, who recently resigned as special counsel for the government rebate case involving the Santa Fe railroad and the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. The special counsel wished to bring contempt proceedings against the officers of the road, which would have included Mr. Morton. Their position was that the testimony adduced before the interstate commerce commission established a violation of the court order of March 25, 1902, restraining the company from executing any agreement to transport interstate traffic at rates lower than the published tariff of the road. This testimony, they contended, constituted a prima facie case against the officers of the road, and the only way to ascertain their guilt or innocence was through contempt proceedings.

Attorney General Moody opposed bringing the contempt proceedings on the ground that while the evidence before the commission might show a violation of the injunction by the road, it contained nothing connecting any officer of the company with such violation. President Roosevelt took the same view. Both the president and the attorney general agreed that contempt proceedings should be instituted impersonally against the corporation in both the Colorado Fuel and the International Harvester case. The latter case, the president says, stands exactly on the same footing, and involves practically all of the western roads.

GASKILL FORGERIES

Responsible For Failure of a Prominent Financial Institution. Philadelphia, June 22.—The City Trust and Safe Deposit company, for years rated among the most reliable financial institutions in the community, closed its doors, and Albert L. Tabor, a state bank examiner, was appointed temporary receiver. The company will liquidate, and J. Hampton Moore, its president, will probably be appointed permanent receiver. It is the belief of the board of directors as well as Receiver Tabor that all depositors will be paid in full. Thus, however, will be determined by the permanent receiver. It is believed a new company will be organized. The failure of the company was the direct issue of the forgeries of the late Benjamin H. Gaskill, the banker, who had raised many certificates of stock from one to 100 shares and borrowed money on them.

NO AGREEMENT

Between Wehrle Company and Polishers—Statement Made by C. R. Atherton, National Officer.

C. R. Atherton of Cincinnati, eighth vice president of the Metal Polishers and Buffers International union, who, with J. C. Cochell of Detroit, ninth vice president, has been here together with Secretary Bishop of the State Board of Arbitration, endeavoring to settle the strike of polishers at the Wehrle foundry, said to the Advocate Thursday that the public has a wrong impression of the conditions.

Mr. Atherton says that the trouble has not resolved itself simply into recognition of the union, but that the strikers are ready to meet with the company and discuss the grievances and agree upon a basis of settlement. He says that the officers presented an agreement to the Wehrle company whereby it was to employ none but union men and that this was rejected, after which the strikers' representatives met Carl Norpell and Edward Kibler, representing the Wehrle company, and gave them this memorandum of agreement for submission to the company:

"MEMORANDUM.

"Between the Wehrle Stove Co. and their employees working in the polishing and buffing rooms. The Wehrle Stove Co. promise to re-employ all employees who were employed on June 1, 1905, without discrimination, and said employees also agree to obey all shop rules made by said company, and work for the best interests of the firm.

"The company promises to start low their employees to wash up in bucket other grade of emery (No. 80) and a sufficient number of wheels to properly do the work.

"Regarding a place to wash up and hang their clothes, the Wehrle Stove Co. further promises to erect a suitable place for both, as soon as convenient, but in the meantime will allow to protect them from the dirt and dust furnished by themselves, the company furnishing hot water, and provide a temporary place to hang clothes so as to protect them from the dirt and dust.

"In hiring men in the future the company agrees to pursue its former policy of not discriminating against union men, and agrees to employ experienced polishers and buffers. In case the company is unable, at any time to obtain experienced men, they will confer with the shop committee of their employees for the purpose of getting such help. The employees agree to co-operate with the company whenever asked to do so, in assisting them by furnishing such experienced men as may be required.

"There shall be a shop committee of the employees, whose duty it shall be to see that the men live up to the rules of the factory, and who shall confer with the foreman in case of any grievance the men may have.

"It is the intention of both parties to this agreement to live up to it in good faith, and with a spirit that will promote harmony for all concerned."

The memorandum was not accepted and the situation remains as it was on June 2, when the strike was inaugurated.

The Wehrle company has a number of men working in the place of those who quit work three weeks ago.

MRS. RITTER DEAD

Little Grandchild Found Her Dead in Bed Thursday Morning at St. Louisville, O.

A very sad death occurred Thursday morning at St. Louisville, ten miles north of Newark, on the Newark and Mt. Vernon road. Mrs. Margaret Ritter, widow of the late Mathias Ritter, was found dead in her bed Thursday morning about 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Koonitz, in St. Louisville, with whom she lived.

About the time mentioned the little eight year old granddaughter of Mrs. Ritter got out of bed and went to her mother's bed and awoke her and said, "Mamma, grandma is so cold; she don't speak to me."

Mrs. Koonitz hastened to her mother's bed and found that the vital spark had fled. Dr. Marnott was called at once, but it was found that Mrs. Ritter was beyond all human help. She had died of heart failure. She had retired the night before saying that she felt unusually well and she made no outcry or struggle during the night, but passed peacefully away. Mrs. Ritter was aged 70 years and leaves several children and grandchildren. She was a devoted Christian woman. She was a member of the Lutheran church, beloved and respected by all. At this writing the funeral arrangements have not been made.

BOWEN'S REPLY TO ROOSEVELT

Former Minister Intimates That He Was Offered a Bribe.

SHARPLY ATTACKS LOOMIS

Claims the Statement He Attempted to Steal or Otherwise Improperly Procure Evidence Is Unwarranted. Criticizes the Action of the Executive Department of the Government.

Washington, June 22.—In reply to President Roosevelt's letter dismissing him from the diplomatic service as a result of the investigation made by Secretary Taft into the controversy between Herbert W. Bowen, former minister to Venezuela, and Francis B. Loomis, first assistant secretary of state, Mr. Bowen has made public a lengthy statement in which he declares that the "Venezuelan scandal" constitutes a national disgrace. He asserts that "the Loomis scandal" pervaded Caracas and constantly "grew worse and worse." Mr. Bowen says that shortly after he called the matter to the attention of the department of state he received a cable offer from Washington of diplomatic promotion that would remove him from Caracas. "I admit," says Bowen, "that I regarded the offer as an attempt to bribe me, veiled under the offer of a higher position and inspired by Mr. Loomis. I make no doubt that in the course of the recent inquiry it has been sufficiently plain that I did not think Mr. Loomis an honest man and that I did not believe his conduct as minister to Venezuela had been honorable."

Discussing the rumors he says he found current in Caracas affecting Mr. Loomis' integrity, Mr. Bowen says:

"Mr. Loomis, while minister, was reported to have used his public position to fill his private purse by obtaining interests in concessions and in various claims against the Venezuelan government. He was commonly thought also to have been in the pay of the Bermudez Asphalt company, and to have made use of his own official position to give color to the belief that the United States government was especially favorable to the side of the company in its controversy with the Venezuelan authorities. I had no means of refuting these scandalous statements. Their substantial truth was assumed by my diplomatic colleagues as well as by the general public at Caracas."

Charges Against Loomis.

After referring to the appearance of Loomis' charges in several papers, Mr. Bowen says: "To say that I instigated these charges is the product of a heated imagination. It was right after this that I was summoned by the state department to Washington, and a departmental inquiry was made into Mr. Loomis' conduct in Venezuela, and I was dismissed from the diplomatic service. Yet I am not either responsible for Mr. Loomis' unsavory reputation in Caracas nor for the circulation of scandalous reports about him. He established his reputation himself, while living there as American minister from 1897 to 1901, and the statements charging him with dishonest and dishonorable conduct were made with such detail of circumstances that mere denial by me was useless."

Referring to the documents left by his predecessor in the legation at Caracas and forwarded by Mr. Bowen to the state department, the latter says: "I can not better express my own feelings in regard to their contents than in the words of the secretary of state, who, in his letter acknowledging their receipt, said: 'I have been greatly surprised and pained in reading the documents you sent me.'"

Refers to Mayer's Letter.

Mr. Bowen also gives the text of a letter from Charles R. Mayer of Columbus, addressed to Francis B. Loomis, and referring to services rendered by Mr. Loomis in securing a contract for furnishing a loan to Venezuela. Mr. Bowen's statement concludes: "Mr. Loomis explains that if this contract, which was to give a million and a quarter, had gone through, he had intended to resign. The conduct of the man who as American minister was willing to participate in such transactions as the foregoing is considered by his official superior as merely 'indiscreet,' and he is retained in the public service. My personal fate and fortune are of light interest to the public. But it does concern the whole country that its diplomatic representatives abroad should be men of clean character and unsullied reputation, and every American citizen should be especially concerned when a man who, as minister to a foreign state, has been the cause of grave scandals affecting his personal integrity and the honor of his government, is promoted to the high office of first assistant secretary of state, and controls important negotiations with the very government at whose capital he caused the scandals and gained a tainted reputation."

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to extend my sincere thanks to my friends and neighbors; also the Iron Molders Union and Eagles for their many acts of kindness shown me during the sickness and death of my husband, Lawrence Evans. Mrs. Stella Evans.
